Our Creed

March 2023

Who are we?

Global Perception was created from the desire to disrupt traditional seminars and training for executives, their teams, and high potentials.

We offer assessment and talent management support to private companies and public bodies.

We also want to innovate in the field of strategic recruitment.

What do we offer?

Global Perception provides solutions through a wide range of programmes aimed to the most important asset of private companies and public bodies: their people.

- ✓ Identification of strengths and areas of improvement in soft skills
- ✓ Building corporate culture and improving teambuilding
- ✓ Identification of high potentials
- ✓ Awareness and handling of physical risks for certain professions
- ✓ Training
- ✓ Coaching
- ✓ Recruitment, selection, and placement

The programmes we offer are all tailor-made to meet the varied demands of our customers.

How?

Global Perception applies an adapted evaluation and selection process, that has proven its worth within the military unit of the French Intelligence community.

It is precisely this expertise and legitimacy, that is applied to the multiple needs of organizations in the private and public domains.

Our process operates as a photographer's "developing bath" as it highlights the character traits of each participant that manifest objectively during the conduct of the situational workshops.

We favour the "Show me" rather than the "Tell me" approach by emphasizing direct observation of the actions of participants in our real-life programs.

Our Team

We are all, without any exception, former certified operatives of the military unit of one of the departments of the French Intelligence community. We therefore share the same expertise and the same values.

We have a diverse and varied operational history, both in France and abroad, and have been regularly involved throughout our career in the selection, and training of our unit's personnel.

Our dedication, our expertise, our educational skills, and our ultra-developed sense of observation are now put at the service of the complex needs of private companies and public bodies.

Are you looking for a united, dedicated, determined, experienced and above all attentive team to partner with, in order to uplift your people potential?

Do not hesitate to contact us!
